Crescent Head

Crescent Head is a village on the Tasman Sea coast, 340 km north-northeast of Sydney, in Kempsey Shire, New South Wales, Australia. At the 2011 census, Crescent Head had a population of 1,586 people. Its major industries include tourism and fishing. It has a small golf course overlooking the sea. Here we will have a homemade morning tea supplied by Port Bus

Trial Bay Gaol

Trial Bay Gaol is a heritage-listed former public works prison and internment camp at Cardwell Street, Arakoon, Kempsey Shire, New South Wales, Australia. The property is owned by the NSW National Parks and Wildlife Service. It was added to the New South Wales State Heritage Register on 14 May 2010. Entry and a 2 hour Guided Excursion is included.

South West Rocks Country Club

Located in the idyllic seaside town of South West Rocks, the Country Club is the spot to relax and enjoy its modern facilities with friends and family. Lunch in Seasons Restaurant is included. Pre ordering from a selected lunch menu.

Smokey Cape Lighthouse

Built in 1891, this heritage lighthouse is one of the last designed by the Colonial Architect, James Barnet. Smoky Cape headland was so named by Captain Cook after he saw Aboriginal fires burning there in 1770. Standing high on a narrow headland, Smoky Cape Lighthouse is surrounded by the stunning coastal scenery of Hat Head National Park. The lighthouse itself is as beautiful as the views – check out its winding staircase and octagonal tower. Take a walk or just admire the views.
