

Around the Region - Nabiac

with Portbus

Thursday 11th March 2021

Nabiac is a small town on the Mid North Coast, New South Wales, Australia in Mid-Coast Council. It is north-west of Forster, and south of Taree. At the 2016 census, the population of Nabiac was 1,252.

Nabiac is the central town of the Wallamba Valley.

Kendall

Kendall was originally named Camden Heads, as it is located on the Camden Haven River. It was renamed Kendall, in 1891, after the Australian poet Henry Kendall, and not, as some tourists suspect, after the similarly-spelled ancient town of Kendal in the County of Cumbria in England. Henry Kendall lived in the area from 1875 to 1881 when he was the first Forest Inspector for New South Wales. First stop is Miss Nellie's for morning tea. Now time to check out the Kendall Craft Co-op where there's woodwork, glasswork jewellery, pens, bags of every description. All you need for the kitchen, bathroom, baby and older children including toys, tea cosies, cushions, chair caddies and pin cushions and scissor holders and a whole lot more!

Nabiac

Situated just off the Pacific Highway on the banks of the Wallamba river, the Nabiac Hotel is at the heart of the small and traditional town of Nabiac. Take your time and stroll the village of Nabiac be sure to visit Greenhouse Cafe, The Curiosity Shop Nabiac, Earth Body and Soul, Vintage Magnolia, Circle of Friends and many more quaint shops.
