It's like stepping back in time and feeling the power of history right before your eyes.

But that's not all! The Paul Bennet Airshows team – aka the current Australian Aerobatic Champions – will be there too, showing off their jaw-dropping aerobatic skills. These folks know how to fly with precision and style, and they're guaranteed to keep you glued to your seat with their incredible stunts.

And it's not just about what's up in the air – there's plenty to do on the ground too. Explore interactive exhibits, check out cool aircraft on display, and enjoy family-friendly entertainment all day long.
